Our mission is to honor God by positively impacting the lives of our employees, growers, customers and community.

– Dave Hines, Kings River Packing Owner

Kings River Packing is an 8th generation family farm. The original owner was a cattle rancher in the 1800's and planted orange seeds. Those became the first citrus trees in the Central Valley and those trees are still producing fruit to this day.

In the 1970's, there was a need for a quality independent packer and shipper in the Sanger area. With the help of his daughters and son-in-laws, Douglas Hazelton began packing his own fruit and Kings River Packing, Inc. was founded.

Kings River only farms citrus but they are constantly growing and looking to see how they can help their customers grow their citrus program by adding new varieties and expanding the months when certain varieties are available.
